WE ARE THE CODE RUNNERS!

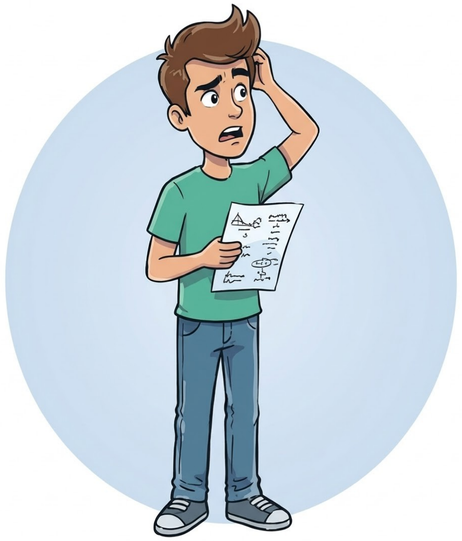

He’s Sebastian…

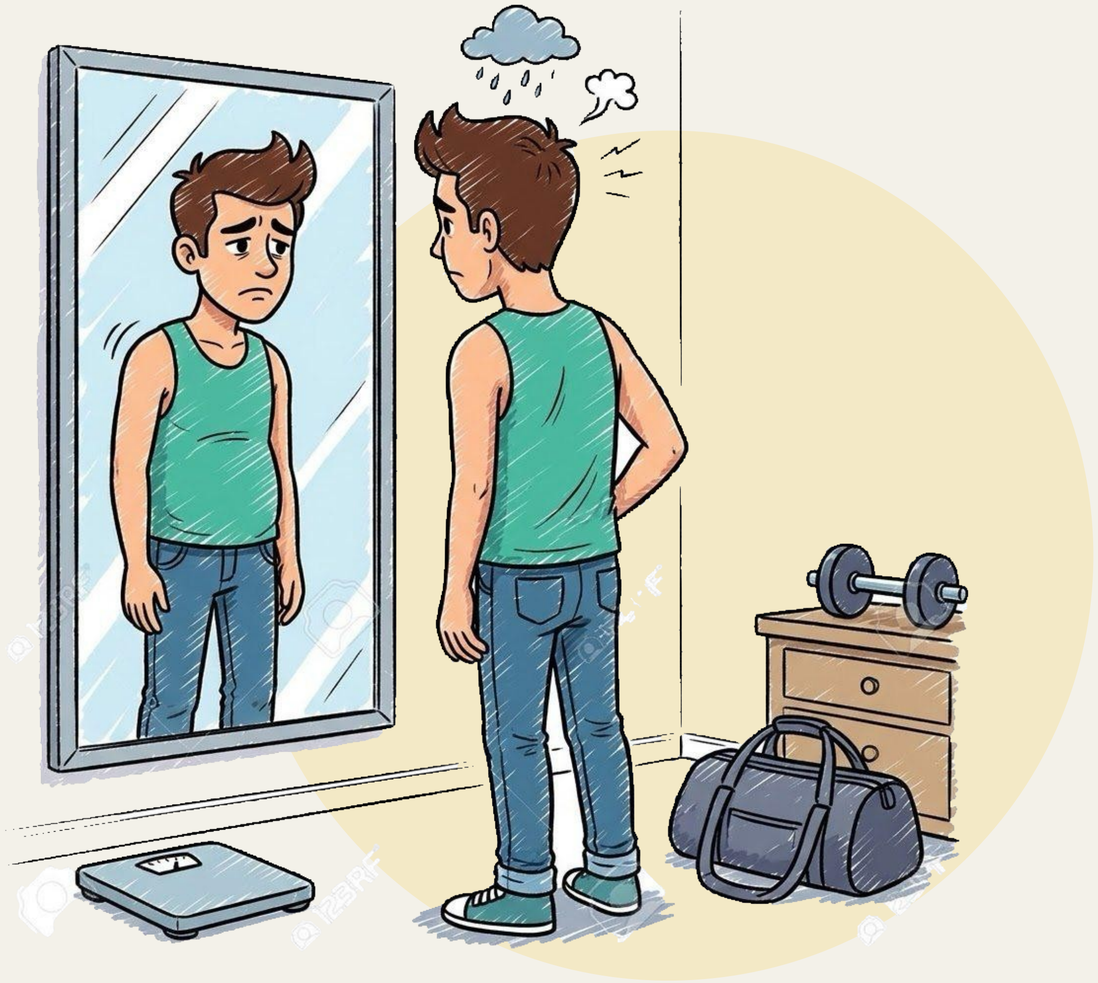

Last month, he did something big. He signed up for the gym. He walked in, motivated, ready to change his life.

He copied random workouts from the internet. He spent hours there, week after week.

The result? Nothing.

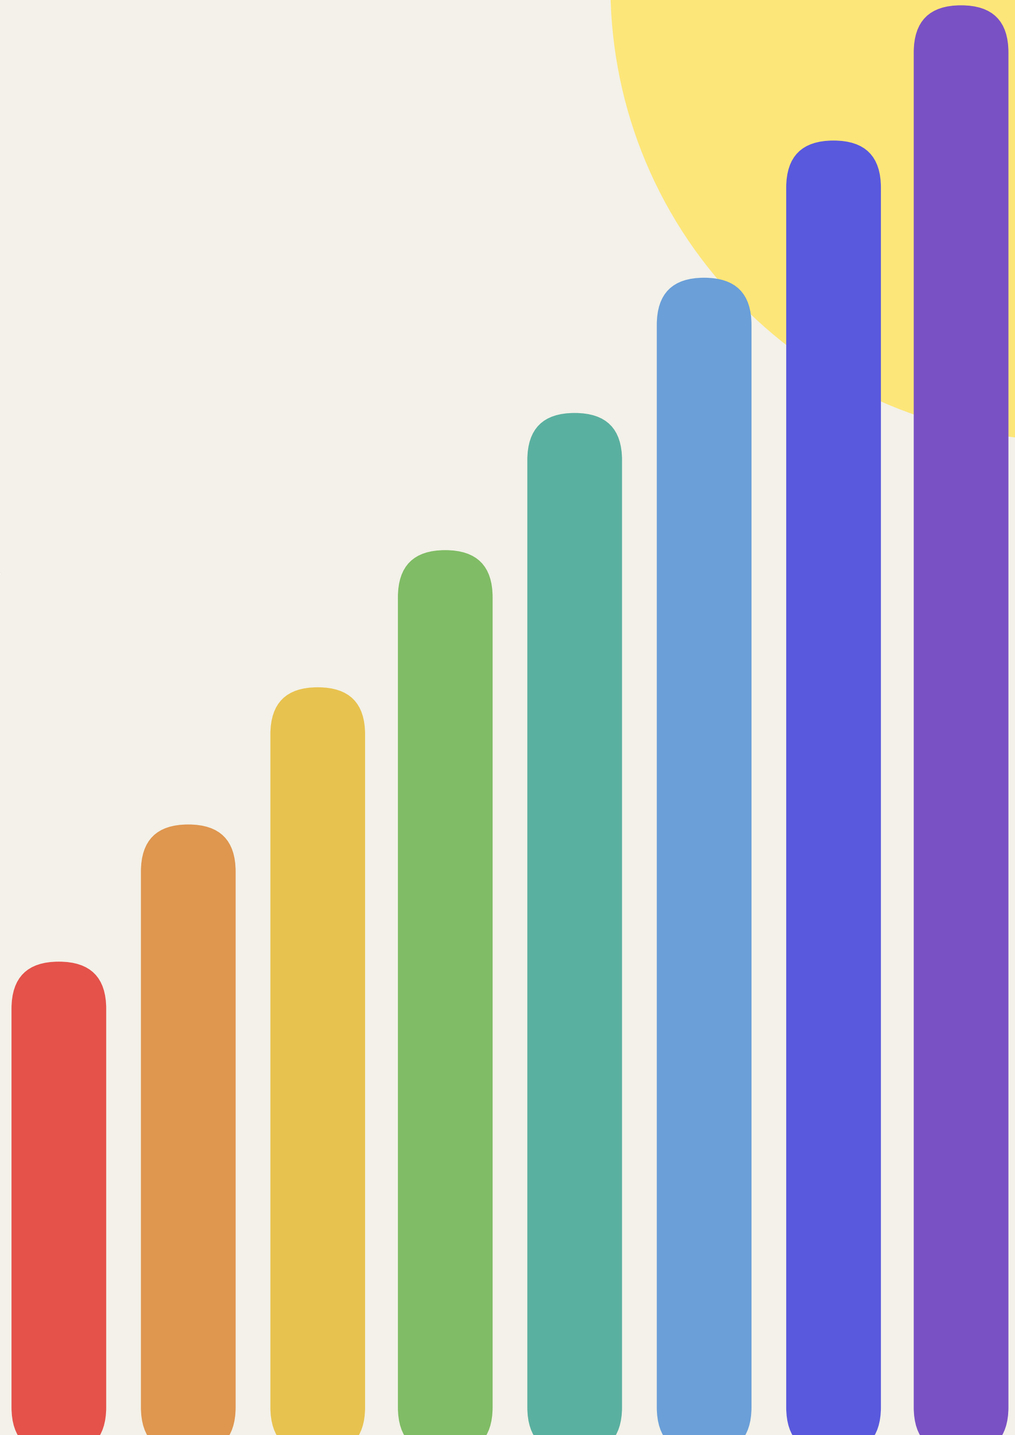

The mirror looked the same. The motivation started to fade.

DON’T DO THE SAME MISTAKES, MASTER YOUR ROUTINE.

TRAIN SMART, NOT HARD.

BUT SEBASTIAN IS NOT THE ONLY ONE AFFECTED BY THIS PROBLEM...

From a third to almost 4 in 10 people never move.

Europe · 2026

39%

never do sport or physical activity

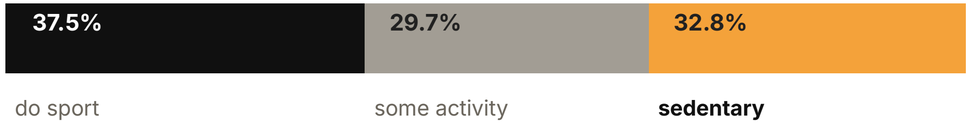

Better than in 2022, but the problem remains.

European Commission, Special Eurobarometer on sport and physical activity

Italy · 2024

32.8%

are completely sedentary

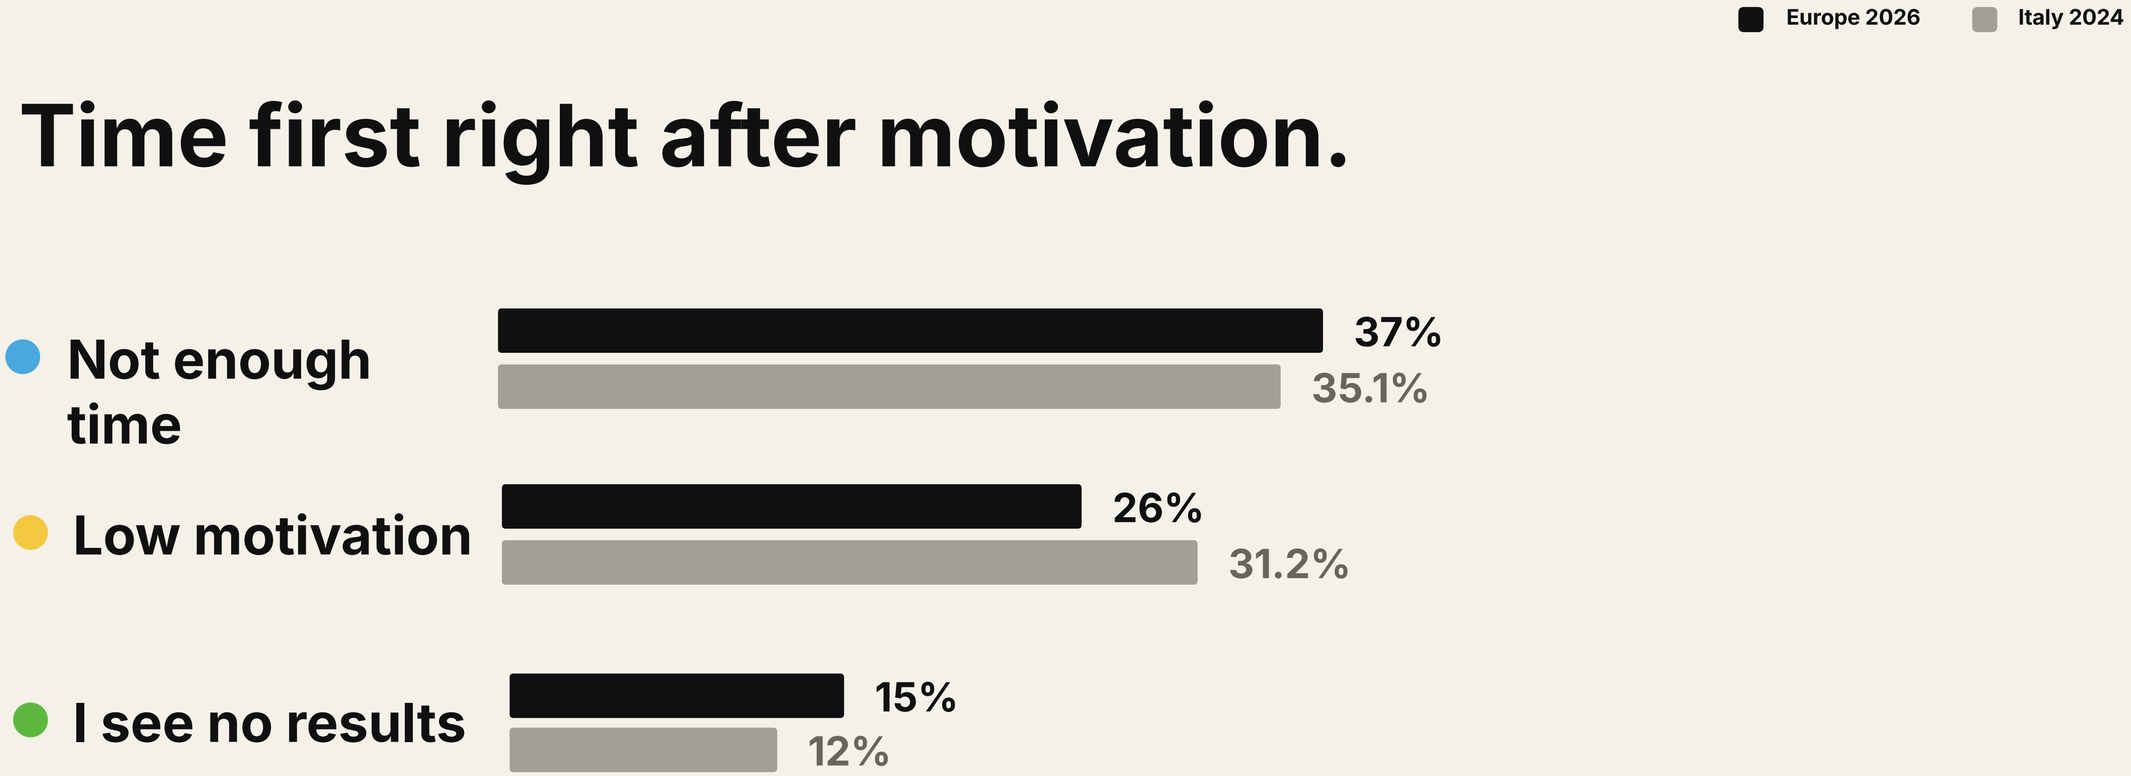

1 in 4

quit a sport they used to play

25.4% · more than 14 million people

ISTAT, “La pratica sportiva in Italia” (Sport participation in Italy)

Time first right after motivation.

Highlighted by the study Michie et al., 2009, 122 interventions

Sources: Eurobarometer 2026, 26,508 interviews, as reported by Euronews on 23 September 2026 (original table not found) · ISTAT 2025, reasons given by people who don’t do sport · Michie, Abraham, Whittington, McAteer, Gupta, Health Psychology, 2009

The best way to exercise? A plan.

Minimum effort, maximum return. Everything already decided, so you only have to show up.

1 LITTLE TIME

Everything already decided

Exercises, sets, reps and rest. Open the app and go.

2 LITTLE MOTIVATION

Capable, not obliged

What keeps people exercising is feeling capable (Teixeira et al., 2012). A plan built on a personal trainer's ideas, and yours.

3 NO VISIBLE RESULTS

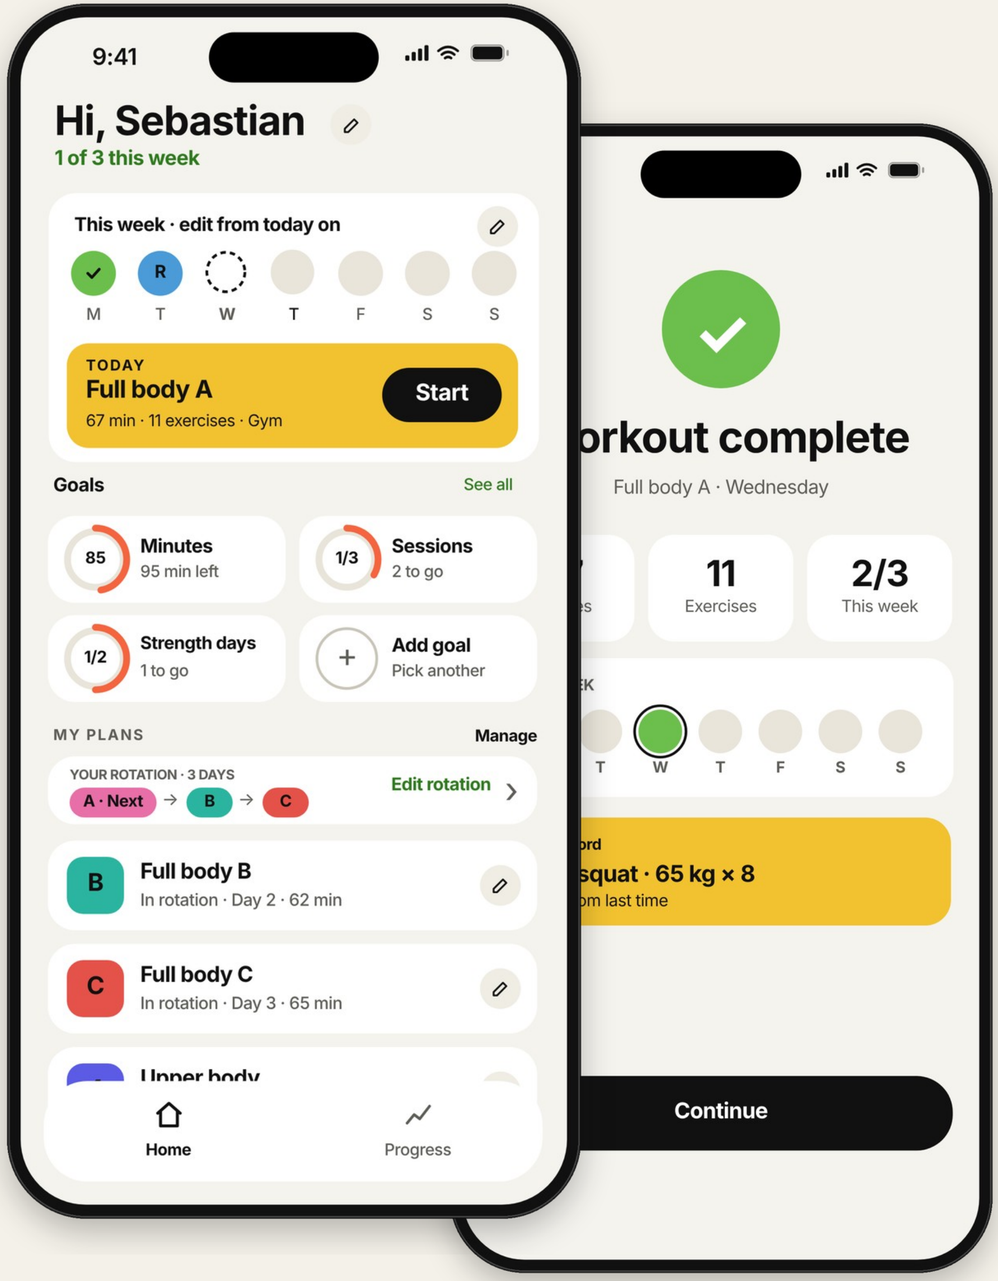

Progress you can feel

The weights grow as you do.

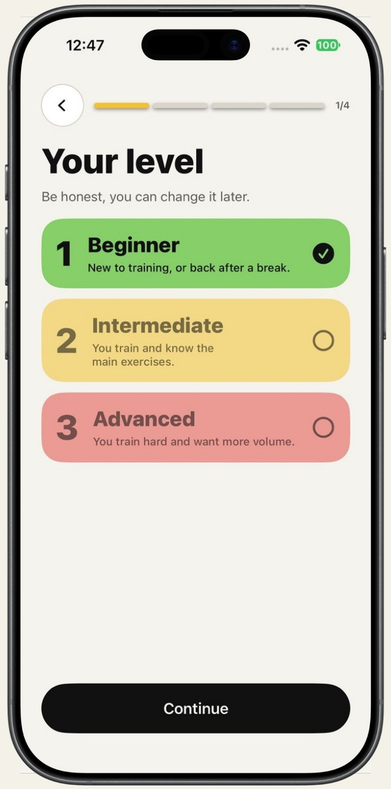

FitLook

Structured workouts, designed by a personal trainer.

An app for people who train

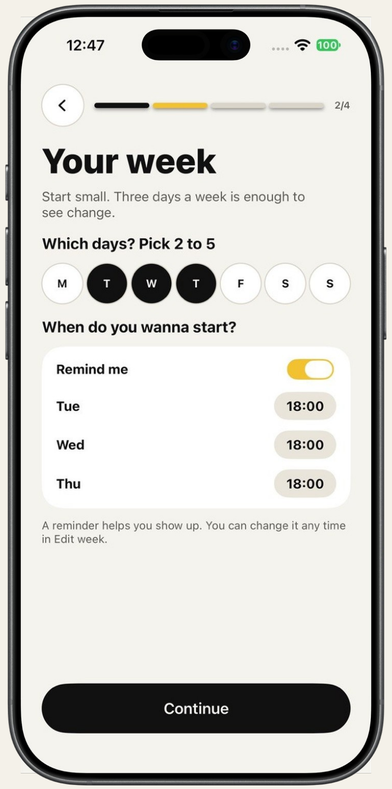

From goal to plan in 4 steps

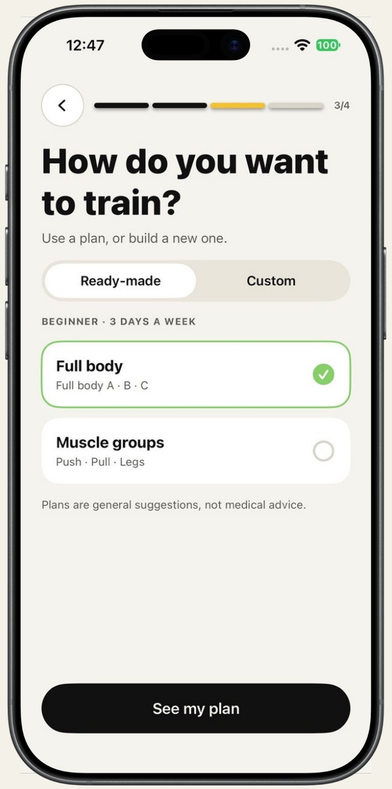

1 Level

Easy, medium or hard: exercises, sets and loads change.

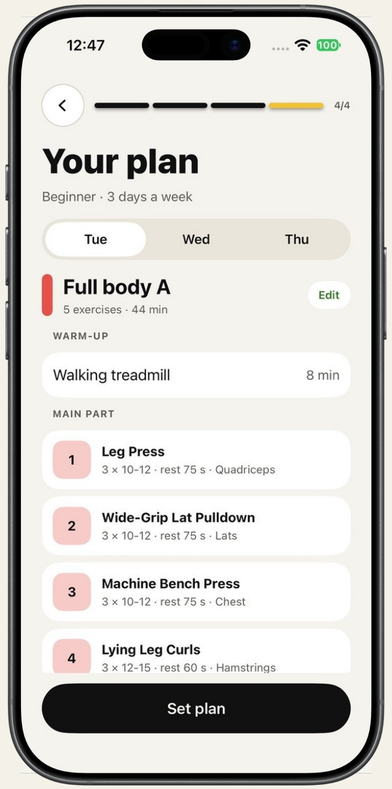

2 Week

2 to 5 days, session length and reminders.

3 Plan

A ready-made plan, or one you build yourself.

4 Ready

Days A, B and C saved, with a reminder before every workout.

A clear plan, designed by a personal trainer

Interviewed a coach

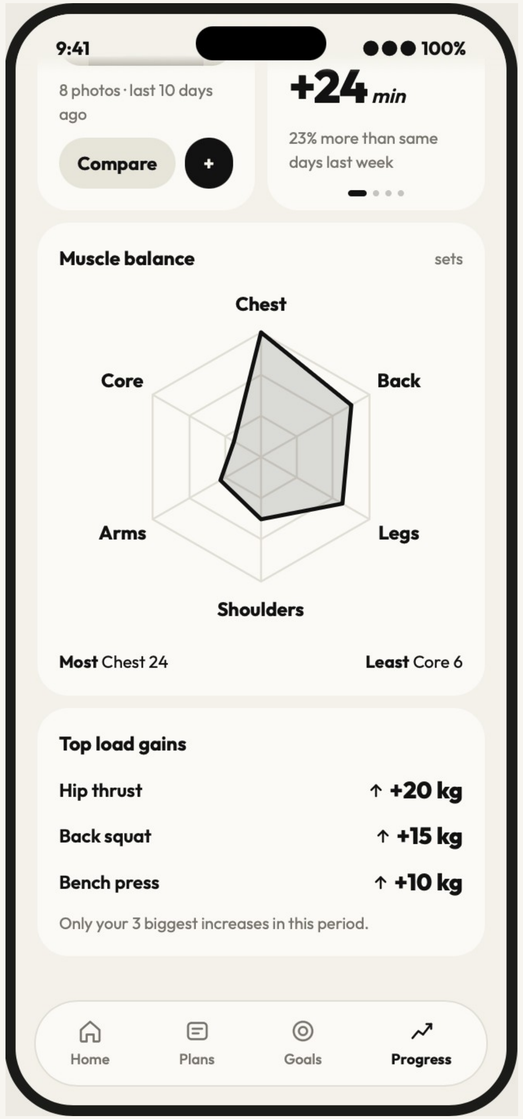

We sat down with a professional coach to learn how a real training plan is built.

Built the way trainers do it

Goal first, then level, training days and session length: the same steps a coach follows.

Turned into the app

Every plan applies the coach’s method, with exercises, sets, reps and rest, for example 3×10/12 with 75s of rest.
